

Société Jersiaise presents...

Town walks :

Starting at the end of March, Stuart Fell, architect and building historian, will be leading a series of inspiring town walks, examining the wealth of historic buildings and townscapes that still survive in St Helier.

The series explores the architectural delights and disasters, and looks closely at the character of individual streets, their surprises, disappointments and opportunities, and to find out what good townscape means and why it is so vulnerable to damage.

The walks will take place on Sunday afternoons when the St Helier is at its most peaceful, starting at 2.30pm, and lasting between one and one-and-a half hours. In the interests of safety, numbers will be limited to around 12 people.

Advance booking is essential please see eventbrite via links below
